The 2018 John Deere backhoe is in really good shape, it has 1535 hours on the machine. Joel Klaisle and myself went over to check the three machines available. Mechanically everything looks really good. This has the least amount of hours on it. OCWA always trailers their equipment to and from the site. Considering that a normal year of 52 weeks at 40 hours a week equals 2080 hours this four year old machine has hardly been used. OCWA has Five Star do all their repair and nothing major has been done to it. I have attached a short video of our Ford leaking the motor is not running and there is no load on the hydraulics. The two pictures are spots we have to clean up after use.

Thank you

To All,

Last week Ed Ware asked me to come to a jobsite on Watson Road to look at the condition of our 1995? Ford backhoe. The Ford was leaking hydraulic fluid at a rapid rate. It is clear that the machine has reached its useful life.

It is my determination that the Ford is a danger to operate and it to be taken out of service.

Ed and I found a 2018 John Deere (former OCWA machine that is available at Five Star Equipment), He is going to test it out tomorrow morning.

The price is $71,000.00+-. We can send our machine to auction.

I believe we should move forward with this purchase as Ed stated we have quite a few jobs yet this summer that will need a backhoe.

Anyone with questions can reach out to Ed.

Thank you,

Dianne Kufel

Thanks Dianne. Is there anything in the Employee Handbook that addresses this point? In the absence of a written policy, it would fall back upon Village policy and past practices. It seems the days were accrued to the employee (but not yet paid) up to the date of termination. In my opinion, the Village would have to pay accrued (earned) time when the employee is let go to the date of termination. rg

Subject: Cecil - was just terminated here

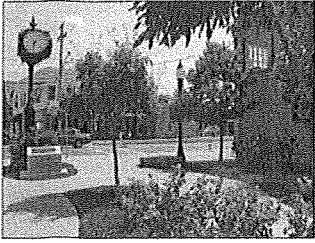

Hello,

Do you know the answer to this? I know we went thru this with Teresa Roth.....and we ended up paying her ($4,000) for the time she worked in the current year, Jan. thru August.....because Teresa said she would go to an attorney? Teresa basically left on good terms, Cecil – was let go for bad performance...before his probation was up. I looked up on Dept. of Labor – not really clear?

This is a question on a terminated employee. He terminated on 7/15/2022. He was let go for bad performance, attitude, etc. Typically, we pay employees for the vacation time that is on the books that he earned as of January 1st, 2022 for the prior year (all of 2021). Now, also, typically, we pay our employees on Jan. 1st, 2023 for their time earned from 2022. Are we obligated by the Dept. of Labor to accrue what he earned from Jan. 1st, 2022 thru July 15th, 2022 and pay him this that would be prorated?

Thank you.

Best,

Question	Answer
What is the current Minimum Wage in New York State?	View details on current minimum wage. (minimum-wage-0)

Question

Answer

Yes. However, the cost of buying and/or taking care of a uniform must not bring the employee below the minimum wage.

Can employers require their employees to wear uniforms?

IF...

- Workers at the minimum wage rate must wear a uniform

THEN...

- Their employers must clean and take care of the uniforms.

OR...

- Pay the employees to do so

Ordinary clothing (such as black trousers and white shirts) is generally not a "uniform."

Question	Answer
Do the minimum wage requirements cover everyone?	Most people are covered by the minimum wage requirements. However, some people are not. Those who are not covered include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Executives and administrators earning more than 75 times the minimum wage rate • Professionals • Outside salespersons • Taxicab drivers • Government employees (However, certain non-teaching employees are covered) • Part-time babysitters • Ministers and members of religious orders • Volunteers, learners, apprentices and students working in non-profit institutions • Students obtaining vocational experience For more detailed information on some of the exclusions in the above list, please see our Non-Profit making Institutions, Public Agencies, and Children's Camps FAQs (/non-profit-making-institutions-public-agencies-and-childrens-camps-faqs). The Labor Law does not consider independent contractors - people who are in business for themselves - as "employees." This means that minimum wage requirements do not cover independent contractors. These are the major exclusions. For a more complete listing, see the NYS Labor Law, Article 19, Section 651 (/https://www.nysenate.gov/legislation/laws/LAB/651).
Where can I find the required posters that summarize the minimum wage rules?	Article 19 of the Labor Law requires employers to post the provisions of the Minimum Wage Act. View Posters. (/minimum-wage-0)
What are the rules for overtime?	The overtime requirement is based on hours worked in a given week. In general, if you have worked more than 40 hours in a pay week, and are not "exempt", you must be paid an overtime rate for all hours over 40. If you are a farm

worker, you must be paid an overtime rate for all hours worked over 60 in a calendar week, and/or for any hours worked on your day of rest. See the chart below:

Employees Overtime Rate

Covered employees One and one-half times their regular, "straight-time" hourly rate of pay for all hours over 40 in a payroll week

Residential employees ("live-in" workers) One and one-half times their regular, "straight-time" hourly rate of pay for all hours over 44 in a payroll week

One and one-half times their regular, "straight-time" hourly rate of pay for all hours over 60 in a calendar week and/or for any hours worked on day of rest

Farm employees

Federal law excludes some types of employees from the requirement to receive one and one-half times their regular rate of pay. Many people call these "exempt" positions. The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA), listed by the U.S. Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division, outlines occupations excluded by federal law. You can find the act at:

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/flsa>

(<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/flsa>).

New York State follows these exclusions. However, the State still requires that most workers receive at least one and one-half times the minimum rate for their overtime hours in businesses covered by the Miscellaneous Wage Order.

QuestionAnswer

Under a new revision to the New York State Labor Law, 196-b, employers are now responsible for providing sick leave to their employees as follows:

- employers with 4 or fewer employees in any calendar year, must provide each employee with up to 40 hours of unpaid sick leave in each calendar year
- employers that employ 4 or fewer employees in any calendar year and that have a net income of greater than one million dollars in the previous tax year, must provide each employee with up to 40 hours of paid sick leave in each calendar year
- employers with between 5 and 99 employees in any calendar year, must provide each employee with up to 40 hours of paid sick leave in each calendar year
- employers with 100 or more employees in any calendar year, must provide each employee with up to 56 hours of paid sick leave in each calendar year

Must an employer pay workers for sick time, holidays and/or vacations?

For more detailed information on this new law, please visit <https://www.ny.gov/programs/new-york-paid-sick-leave> (<https://www.ny.gov/programs/new-york-paid-sick-leave>).

Payment for time not actually worked, other than sick time, is not required unless the employer has established a policy to grant such pay. Holidays and vacations fall under this 'time not worked.' When an employer does decide to create a benefit policy, that employer is free to impose any conditions they choose.

Fringe benefits may include:

- Reimbursement of expenses or tuition
- Health coverage
- Payment for:
 - Vacation
 - Personal leave
 - Holidays

Question	Answer
What is the status of an employer's oral agreement to provide a particular fringe benefit?	Section 195.5 of the Labor Law states: Every employer shall notify his employees in writing or by publicly posting the employer's policy on sick leave, vacation, personal leave, holidays and hours. If an employer does not have a written policy, the oral policy (or past practice) may be enforced - if the terms of the policy can be confirmed through an investigation. Moreover, violators of § 195.5 are subject to civil penalty.
When employees resign -- or are discharged -- from a job, must the employer pay them for any accrued, unused vacation time?	Whether an employer must pay for unused time depends upon the terms of the vacation and/or resignation policy. New York courts have held that an agreement to give benefits or wage supplements, like vacation, can specify that employees lose accrued benefits under certain conditions. [See Glenville Gage Company, Inc. v. Industrial Board of Appeals of the State of New York, Department of Labor, 70 AD2d 283 (3d Dept 1979) affd, 52 NY2d 777 (1980).] To be valid, the employer must have told employees, in writing, of the conditions that nullify the benefit. IF... <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • An employee has earned vacation time AND... <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There is no written forfeit policy THEN... <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The employer must pay the employee for the accrued vacation

Re: Pre-Approval FD104

Please review for pre-approval requisition FD104 for the purchase of a new 2022 Chevrolet 2500 crew cab pick up truck. This will replace the current squad 1 vehicle.

The current Squad has over 96,000 miles on it. There are several locations that have sizeable rust perforations, the engine is leaking oil and burning antifreeze. The vehicle also needs front and rear struts and the transmission is beginning to slip. It is likely that the cost of the repairs will exceed the sale value based on its condition.

The proposed replacement vehicle is currently available through Denooyer Chevrolet on NYS contract. It is a Chevrolet Silverado 2500, crew cab with an installed utility body, cap, lighting, BU alarm and hitch. The vehicle will be used in both an emergency capacity as well as transport and relocation of the recruitment trailer. The vehicle cost is $69,796.50 as per attached quotation.

I am proposing using American Relief Funds for this purchase thereby eliminating any tax impact to the residents.

Please contact the Fire Chief's Office if you have any questions.

Re: Requisition FD102

As per our conversation during the August 11 Board meeting I am forwarding requisition FD102 and the accompanying change order. These are necessary changes that will be made during the construction of the new Engine. They will be completed by Colden FE prior to the delivery of the vehicle.

Please contact the Fire Chief's Office if you have any questions.

Importance: High

The Mayor spoke with Robert.....he said we can waive the Perf. and Payment Bond and the Env. Review. The RFP wasn't specific enough....only a $50,000 job.

Best,
